

Is it Urgent or an Emergency?

Whether it's urgent, emergency or a planned appointment, kids need pediatric, kid-focused care in any situation, even at a moment's notice. That's why, as long as it's not life-threatening, it's a good idea to call your child's primary care provider first. After hours, use urgent care, or better yet, call our 24/7 ParentSmart Healthline at 720-777-0123 to get free advice from a registered pediatric nurse, who might be able to help you avoid an unnecessary visit to the ED. If there's any chance it's life-threatening, call 911 — it's the quickest way to get emergency medical attention.

Still unsure? We offer both urgent and emergency care for kids at our South Campus in Highlands Ranch or North Campus in Broomfield (see reverse for a map). Or just consult our handy guide:
