Late Breaker: RESPIRATORY SEASON IS HERE! We are seeing steady and sustained increasing cases of SARS-CoV-2, RSV, influenza A, and influenza B. This data serves as another reminder to encourage everyone to get their influenza and SARS-CoV-2 vaccines. Additionally, consider wearing a mask in indoor crowded spaces during high levels of community circulation of respiratory viruses and/or when you have respiratory symptoms to keep yourself and those around you healthy. At CHCO, our updated return-to-work policy allows team members to return to work when they are well enough (afebrile and symptoms improving) and requires all team members to mask for 10 days following the start of any respiratory illness upon their return to work.
