Late Breaker: The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE) reports that 225 animals have already tested positive for rabies in Colorado this year. The majority of positive cases have been in skunks and bats, but six domestic animals have also tested positive. Remember to report all animal bites to the CDPHE and consult with them regarding the need for rabies prophylaxis.