Late Breaker: We have started to see a small number of influenza and RSV cases in addition to continued high numbers of SARS-CoV-2 cases. Modeling data suggest that it is likely going to be an early respiratory season this year. Influenza vaccines, SARS-CoV-2 boosters, and RSV vaccines or monoclonal antibodies for those who are eligible should be strongly encouraged for everyone.