Position:  Full-time Integrative Pediatrician
We are looking for a unique and gifted human being (who happens to be a well-trained integrative pediatrician) to join a thriving integrative pediatric practice community in the heart of Denver, Colorado.

Our practice, Highlands Integrative Pediatrics, just celebrated its 10th anniversary of being in community with the patients and families that we have the privilege of providing integrative healthcare for. We began with 1 pediatrician and 3 dedicated team members and the values of open-mindedness, inclusion, accessibility, and compassionate care for ourselves and for each family that we get to share the exam room with. We began with the intuition that holistic and integrative approaches are the most powerful way to partner with families on their health and healing journeys.

We have grown to 6 integrative general pediatric providers, 2 full-time behavioral health clinicians and 1 osteopathic physician offering OMT consultations and treatment. We are proud of the rest of the team that we have assembled including our practice administrator, triage nurses, medical assistants, and front desk members.

We have a unique office building that includes a studio that has acted as a blank canvas for us to dream up group offerings including parenting workshops, yoga, mindfulness workshops for kids, lactation groups, group visits, poetry readings, gong baths...

And...we are just getting started. We are looking for that unique and gifted human being to join our group as a pediatrician to be a part of the next phase of our practice evolution who:

- Is profoundly gifted at the art of connection with children, parents, and colleagues
- Is comfortable not being the one who is “right” in the room
- Is always working toward the balance that comes with grounded confidence and humility
- Brings a playful, fun, and profound presence to their work/life
- Experiences their work as privilege and their day-to-day professional interactions as life giving and not depleting.
- Who is at a stage in their life and career where they can (and want to) prioritize their work near the top of their life priorities
- Who is committed to the gift of long-term patient relationships that general pediatrics can provide with longevity in a practice setting
- Who believes in the inherent value that all human beings bring to the table, especially the ones who challenge us most

And...

- Will have a 4 day/week schedule seeing patients
- Has integrative medicine experience
- Phone call coverage 1 weekday per week and weekends rotating between 5-6 providers
- Will see 15-20 patients per day
- Will bring new, creative and innovative ideas to our practice
- Will have 3 weeks of vacation and 1 week of CME per year
- Will have a competitive salary for the area and work expectations
- Will be ready to join our group in 4-6 months

And may...

- Have experience or interest in clinical hypnosis work
- Have completed an integrative medicine fellowship
- Have other integrative medicine training (acupuncture, trauma work, OMT, neurofeedback, biofeedback etc)

If this sounds like you or someone you know, we can be reached at bryan.kono@hipediatrics.com or 720.236.9925
